Deposit Account Agreement – Card Purchase and Withdrawal Limits

Limits are based on the card you use and which type of ATM you use.

DAILY LIMITS
Card Type	Purchase Limit	Chase In-Branch ATM Limit	Other Chase ATM Limit	Non-Chase ATM Limit
Chase Business Debit Card	$10,000	$3,000	$1,000	$500 ($1,000 for accounts opened in CT, NJ, NY, TX)
Chase Platinum Business Debit Card	$15,000	$3,000	$3,000	$1,000
Chase Business ATM Card	$0	$3,000	$1,000	$400 ($1,000 for accounts opened in CT, NJ, NY, TX)

These are the limits that come with your card, but you can request a different ATM or Purchase Limit (subject to approval). If your checking account is changed, we may provide you a new debit card that aligns with that account.

When you use a Chase ATM it is either considered an In-Branch ATM or Other Chase ATM.

- Chase In-Branch ATMs are ATMs located inside the main area of a Chase branch that you use during the branch's posted business hours.
- Other Chase ATMs include ATMs located inside the main area of a Chase branch that you use outside of the branch's posted business hours, ATMs that are separated from the main area of a branch by another set of doors, drive-up ATMs and other Chase ATMs not located in or near a branch.

The Chase In-Branch ATM Limit is separate from all other limits, which means that withdrawals at a Chase In-Branch ATM do not count toward a cardholder's Other Chase ATM or Non-Chase ATM Limits for the same business. When you use a Chase In-Branch ATM, all withdrawals made with any of a cardholder's ATM or debit cards for the same business count toward every card's Chase In-Branch ATM Limit. Chase ATMs have daily funds transfer limits for your security.

When you use an Other Chase ATM or a Non-Chase ATM, all withdrawals count toward the Other Chase ATM Limits for all of a cardholder's ATM or debit cards for the same business and count toward only that card's Non-Chase ATM Limit.

Non-ATM cash transactions are considered as everyday debit card transactions and count toward your purchase limit.

Special rules for Business Associate Cards:

The Associate Card has daily limits for ATM withdrawals and purchases which are set by the account owner (not to exceed $1,000 for ATM withdrawals and $5,000 for purchases). Withdrawals at any ATM count toward the daily limit, and Associate Card withdrawals do not count toward the cardholder's limit on other cards.

CHASE BUSINESS OVERDRAFT SERVICES

An overdraft occurs when you don't have enough money available in your checking account to cover a transaction. Whether your account has enough money to cover a transaction is determined during our nightly processing. During our nightly processing, we take your previous end of day's balance and post credits. If there are any deposits not yet available for use or holds (such as tax levies), these will reduce the account balance used to pay your transactions. Then we subtract any debit transactions presented during our nightly processing. The available balance shown to you during the day may not be the same amount used to pay your transactions as some transactions may not be displayed to you before nightly processing. You must immediately pay the amount of any overdraft along with any fees that apply.

STANDARD OVERDRAFT PRACTICE:

Included with Chase Business Complete Checking, Chase Performance Business Checking, Chase Platinum Business Checking, Chase Analysis Business Checking and interest-bearing counterparts (where applicable).

We have a Standard Overdraft Practice that comes with Chase business checking accounts. Our Standard Overdraft Practice does not require enrollment. We also offer Overdraft Protection and Chase Business Debit Card Coverage, which are optional services that can help pay overdrafts when they occur.

WHAT IT IS:

Our Standard Overdraft Practice may pay, for a fee, overdraft transactions at our discretion based on your account history, deposits you make and the transaction amount. We do NOT GUARANTEE we will always pay your overdraft transaction, and if we do not pay your transaction, the transaction will be declined or returned unpaid.

WHAT IT PAYS:

- Checks
- Other transactions made using your checking account number (you set up automatic payments for your recurring phone bill, utility bill, recurring vendor payments)
- Recurring debit card purchases (e.g. subscriptions)
- NOT covered: Everyday debit card transactions (e.g. office supplies, everyday expenses)

WHAT IT COSTS:

- We charge a $34 Overdraft Fee (may also be referred to as Insufficient Funds Fee) per transaction¹ during our nightly processing beginning with the first transaction that overdraws your account balance by more than $50 (maximum of 6 fees per business day, up to $204). For Chase Analysis Business Checking accounts we may charge a $34 Overdraft Fee per transaction beginning with the first transaction that overdraws your account (maximum of 6 fees per business day, up to $204).

WHEN A FEE WON'T BE CHARGED:

With Chase Overdraft AssistSM, you can avoid Overdraft Fees when your account balance is overdrawn. Chase Overdraft Assist is not available with Chase Analysis Business Checking.

Chase Overdraft Assist is available and does not require enrollment. Each business day, we complete our nightly processing of the transactions for that business day. After we complete our nightly processing, if your account balance at the end of the business day is overdrawn by more than $50, then you need to make a deposit or transfer to avoid Overdraft Fees on the transactions that overdraw your account. You will then have until 11 p.m. ET (8 p.m. PT) on the next business day to make a deposit or transfer that brings your account balance to overdrawn by $50 or less at the end of that business day. Chase Performance Business Checking and Chase Platinum Business Checking are not eligible for the next business day feature. To calculate your account balance at the end of the business day, we take your previous end of day's balance and post credits. If there are any deposits not yet available for use or holds (such as tax levies), these will reduce the account balance used to pay your transactions. Then we subtract any debit transactions presented during our nightly processing. See the Posting Order and Processing section here and in the Deposit Account Agreement for detailed information about posted and pending transactions.

If after we complete our nightly processing your account balance is overdrawn by $50 or less at the end of the current business day, then no Overdraft Fees will be charged on the previous and current business day's transactions.

If your account balance remains overdrawn by more than $50 at the end of the current business day, you may be charged Overdraft Fees on the previous business day's transactions. You will have an additional business day to deposit or transfer funds to avoid Overdraft Fees on the current business day's transactions.

To help illustrate how Chase Overdraft Assist works, here are some examples:

In these examples, all days are business days and we assume there are no additional transactions other than the ones described. As a reminder, we pay overdraft transactions at our discretion.

Example 1: No $34 Overdraft Fees – Overdrawn by $50 or less: On Monday, you start the day with $5 in your Chase Business Complete Checking, Chase Performance Business Checking, or Chase Platinum Business Checking account. Throughout the day, we receive three $15 checks drawn on your account. During our nightly processing for Monday, we pay these transactions, leaving your end of day account balance overdrawn by $40.

Result: A $34 Overdraft Fee was not charged because your account balance is overdrawn by $50 or less at the end of the business day.

Example 2: No $34 Overdraft Fee – Chase Business Complete Checking Account Overdrawn by more than $50 and you make a deposit to bring your account balance to overdrawn by $50 or less at the end of the next business day: On Monday, you start the day with $5 in your Chase Business Complete Checking account.

If you have questions, please call us at 1-800-242-7338 (we accept operator relay calls).

Throughout the day, we receive three $25 checks drawn on your account. During our nightly processing for Monday, we pay these transactions, leaving your end of day account balance overdrawn by $70. To avoid the $34 Overdraft Fee, you make a cash deposit of $30 by 11 p.m. ET (8 p.m. PT) Tuesday, leaving your end of day account balance overdrawn by $40.

Result: A $34 Overdraft Fee was not charged because your account balance is overdrawn by $50 or less at the end of the business day. If you had not made that cash deposit, then your account balance would have remained overdrawn by more than $50 on Tuesday and you would have been charged a $34 Overdraft Fee on the check.

Example 3: $34 Overdraft Fees are charged on a debit card transaction: (In this example, you have been automatically enrolled in Chase Business Debit Card Coverage.) On Monday, you start the day with $5 in your Chase Business Complete Checking account. Later that day you make a $100 debit card transaction on office supplies. During our nightly processing for Monday, this transaction posts and we pay it, leaving your end of day account balance overdrawn by $95.

On Tuesday, you make a $60 debit card transaction for gasoline. During our nightly processing for Tuesday, this transaction posts and we pay it, leaving your end of day account balance overdrawn by $155 ($100 office supply transaction + $60 gasoline transaction).

Result: A $34 Overdraft Fee is charged on the $100 office supplies that overdrew your account by more than $50 on Monday. This fee is charged because you didn't make a deposit or transfer by 11 p.m. ET (8 p.m. PT) on Tuesday to bring your account balance to overdrawn by $50 or less at the end of the business day.

On Wednesday your account is overdrawn by $189 ($100 office supply transaction + $60 gasoline transaction + $34 Overdraft Fee). You have until 11 p.m. ET (8 p.m. PT) on Wednesday to avoid a $34 Overdraft Fee on the $60 gasoline transaction from Tuesday by making a deposit or transfer that brings your account balance to overdrawn by $50 or less at the end of the business day.

Example 4: $34 Overdraft Fee – Overdrawn by more than $50 and you have a Chase Performance Business Checking or Chase Platinum Business Checking Account: On Monday, you start the day with $5 in your account. Throughout the day, we receive three $25 checks drawn on your account. During our nightly processing for Monday, we pay these transactions, leaving your end of day account balance overdrawn by $70.

Result: A $34 Overdraft Fee is charged because your account balance is overdrawn by more than $50 at the end of the day and you didn't make a deposit or transfer by 11 p.m. ET (8 p.m. PT) on Monday and your account type is not eligible for the next business day feature to make a deposit to bring your account balance to overdrawn by $50 or less.

There are other ways to avoid Overdraft Fees:

- If your transaction is $5 or less
- If your debit card transaction was authorized when there was a sufficient available balance in your account
- If your check or ACH is returned unpaid. However, we may charge an Overdraft Fee if a previously returned check or ACH is presented again and unpaid
- If your debit card transaction or ATM cash withdrawal request is declined

Knowing your balance may help you avoid fees

Use any of these options to check your balance before you make a purchase.

"Pending" transactions

Throughout the day we post debits and credits to your account that may appear as "pending" when we become aware of the transaction. The following are the most common types of debit transactions that may appear as "pending" and reduce your available balance by the amount of the transaction:

- ATM and Chase Banker Withdrawals, Transfers and Payments
- Automatic Payments
- Chase.com or Chase Mobile Online Transactions
- Checks Drawn on Your Account
- Debit Card Transactions
- Wire Transfers

ATM and Chase Banker Withdrawals, Transfers and Payments: For payments or cash withdrawals, we will apply the transactions and update your available balance as soon as the transaction is complete.

Automatic Payments (ACH transactions): We will generally apply debit transactions against your available balance as pending at the start of the business day of the effective date of the payment. If you initiate ACH debit transactions on the same day as the effective date, we will apply them in the order we receive them.

¹ The Chase Platinum Business Checking account waives one Overdraft Fee per monthly statement period.

If you have questions, please call us at 1-800-242-7338 (we accept operator relay calls).

Chase.com or Chase Mobile Online Transactions: For any payment or transfer, once you approve the transaction, we'll apply it to your account. For recurring or future dated payments, it is applied on the effective "send on" date.

Checks Drawn on Your Account: When cashed or deposited at a Chase ATM, branch, or online, the checks will be pending on your account at the time the item was cashed or deposited. Checks that are deposited at other banks will show as pending throughout the day as the other banks submit the item to us for payment. If the amount of the check identified in the notice exceeds your balance at the time we receive the notice, we may notify the other bank of that fact.

Debit Card Transactions: For more information on debit card transactions refer to the section Important Information and Agreements About Your Card.

Wire Transfers: Once we've begun processing the wire transfer and completed all of our internal reviews, we will apply the transaction to your account and update your available balance on the transfer's effective date.

While we make every effort to place transactions in a pending status on your account during the day, transactions may be unable to be displayed as pending before they are posted to your account. How these items are posted when they are completed and no longer display as pending is based on the posting order. Fees are applied against the account based on how items are posted. For details, refer to Posting Order.

Posting Order

Posting order is the order in which we apply deposits and withdrawals to your account. We provide you with visibility into how transactions are posted and in what order to help you better manage your account.

When we transition from one business day to the next business day we post transactions to and from your account during our nightly processing. The order in which we generally post items during nightly processing for each business day is:

- First, we make any previous day adjustments, and add deposits to your account.
- Second, we subtract transactions in chronological order by using the date and time of when the transaction was authorized or shown as pending. This includes ATM and Chase banker withdrawals, transfers and payments; automatic payments; chase.com or Chase Mobile online transactions; checks drawn on your account; debit card transactions; wire transfers; and real time payments. If multiple transactions have the same date and time, then they are posted in high to low dollar order.
 - There are some instances where we do not have the time of the transaction therefore we post at the end of the day the transaction occurred:
 - We are unable to show the transaction as pending; or
 - We don't receive an authorization request from the merchant but the transaction is presented for payment.
- Third, there are some transactions that we cannot process automatically or until we've completed posting of your chronological transactions. This includes Overdraft Protection transfers or transfers to maintain target balances in other accounts. We subtract these remaining items in high to low dollar order.
- Finally, fees are assessed last.

If you review your account during the day, you will see that we show some transactions as "pending." For details, refer to the section "Pending" transactions. These transactions impact your available balance, but have not yet posted to your account and do not guarantee that we will pay these transactions to your account if you have a negative balance at that time. We may still return a transaction unpaid if your balance has insufficient funds during that business day's nightly processing, even if it had been displayed as a "pending" transaction on a positive balance during the day. If a transaction that you made or authorized does not display as "pending," you are still responsible for it and it may still be posted against your account during nightly processing.

OVERDRAFT PROTECTION:

WHAT IT IS:

Allows you to link an Overdraft Protection backup funding account—a Chase business savings account or a Chase business line of credit—to your checking account to help pay any overdraft transactions that may occur. If your checking account does not have enough money, we will use the available funds from your backup account to authorize or pay transactions. The exact amount needed to cover the transaction will be transferred if enough funds are available.

WHAT IT PAYS:

All transactions, including everyday debit card transactions

WHAT IT COSTS:

- There is not a fee for an Overdraft Protection transfer: Refer to the page How your transactions will work for Overdraft Fees that may apply if there is NOT enough money available in your linked Overdraft Protection backup account
- Business Line of Credit Transfer: You will pay interest as stated in the Line of Credit Agreement

If you have questions, please call us at 1-800-242-7338 (we accept operator relay calls).

Establishing or Canceling Overdraft Protection: Any owner of both a qualifying checking account and the backup account may enroll in Overdraft Protection without the consent of other owners, and both accounts must share at least one owner to maintain Overdraft Protection. Any owner of the checking account or the backup account may cancel Overdraft Protection (by terminating the service or closing the account) without the consent of other owners. A backup account can provide Overdraft Protection for more than one checking account, but a checking account can have only one backup account. A personal checking account may be linked to a Chase personal savings account; and a business checking account may be linked to a Chase business savings account or a business line of credit in good standing. We may cancel your Overdraft Protection service at any time. Your request to add or cancel Overdraft Protection will become effective within a reasonable time after approval.

Transfers: We will make one Overdraft Protection transfer per business day that will appear on your statement for both accounts. If you have enough available funds in your backup account, we will automatically transfer enough to bring your checking account balance to zero. If you do not have enough available funds in your backup account to bring your checking account balance to zero, but you have enough available funds to pay one or more transactions and/or your previous day's negative balance, we will transfer that amount. If the amount transferred does not bring your checking account balance to zero, your checking account will become overdrawn and you may be charged Overdraft Fees. If we authorize your transaction, we will leave the funds in your backup account until we pay the transaction, which may take several days. However, if you use those funds before the transaction is paid there will not be available funds to make the transfer and your checking account may become overdrawn and charged an Overdraft Fee. The available balance for a savings account is determined at the time that we authorize a transaction or at the end of business day processing. The available balance for a business line of credit is determined at the end of the previous business day processing. We are not required to notify you if funds from the backup account cannot be transferred for Overdraft Protection (for example if the account is dormant, purged, restricted or not in good standing). Refer to the section Restricting Your Account; Blocking or Delaying Transactions for additional information.
