Deposit Account Agreement – Card Purchase and Withdrawal Limits

Limits are based on the card you use and which type of ATM you use.

DAILY LIMITS
Card Type	Purchase Limit	Chase In-Branch ATM Limit	Other Chase ATM Limit	Non-Chase ATM Limit
Chase Debit Card	$3,000	$3,000	$1,000	$500 ($1,000 for accounts opened in CT, NJ, NY)

Chase Private Client Debit Card	$7,500	$3,000	$3,000	$2,000
Better Banking Debit Card Chase Disney Debit Card Premier Debit Card	$5,000	$3,000	$1,000	$500 ($1,000 for accounts opened in CT, NJ, NY)

Access Debit Card	$400	$3,000	$1,000	$400
Chase ATM Card	N/A	$3,000	$1,000	$300 ($1,000 for accounts opened in CT, NJ, NY)
Chase High School ATM Card	N/A	$500	$500	$300

These are the standard limits that come with your card, but you can request a different ATM or Purchase Limit (subject to approval).

When you use a Chase ATM it is either considered an In-Branch ATM or Other Chase ATM.

- Chase In-Branch ATMs are ATMs located inside the main area of a Chase branch that you use during the branch's posted business hours.
- Other Chase ATMs include ATMs located inside the main area of a Chase branch that you use outside of the branch's posted business hours, ATMs that are separated from the main area of a branch by another set of doors, drive-up ATMs and other Chase ATMs not located in or near a branch.

The Chase In-Branch ATM Limit is separate from all other limits, which means that withdrawals at a Chase In-Branch ATM do not count toward your Other Chase ATM or Non-Chase ATM Limits. When you use a Chase In-Branch ATM, all withdrawals made with any of your ATM, debit or prepaid cards count toward every card's Chase In-Branch ATM Limit.

When you use an Other Chase ATM or a Non-Chase ATM, all withdrawals count toward the Other Chase ATM Limits for all of your ATM, debit or prepaid cards, and count toward only that card's Non-Chase ATM Limit.

Chase Overdraft Services

An overdraft occurs when you don't have enough money available in your checking account to cover a transaction. We have a Standard Overdraft Practice that comes with Chase checking accounts and also offer Overdraft Protection and Chase Debit Card Coverage, which are optional services that can help pay overdrafts when they occur.

STANDARD OVERDRAFT PRACTICE:

What it is:

Our Standard Overdraft Practice may pay, for a fee, overdraft transactions at our discretion based on your account history, the deposits you make and the transaction amount. We do NOT GUARANTEE we will always pay your overdraft transaction, and if we do not pay your transaction, the transaction will be declined or returned unpaid.

What it pays:

- Checks
- Automatic Payments (e.g. recurring phone bill, mortgage or utility bill)
- Recurring debit card purchases (e.g. movie subscriptions or gym memberships)
- NOT covered: Everyday debit card transactions (e.g. groceries, gasoline or dining out)

What it costs:

- If Paid: $34 Insufficient Funds Fee per item
- If Check or Automatic Payment is Returned: $34 Returned Item Fee. If the same item is returned multiple times, only one fee will be charged for that item within a 30-day period.
- If Recurring Debit Card Transaction is Declined: Transaction will NOT go through and you will NOT be charged a fee
- Maximum of 3 of either of these fees per day, for a total of $102
- These fees are not charged if your account balance at the end of the business day is overdrawn by $5 or less, or for items that are $5 or less

For Chase Sapphire Checking accounts, we waive the Insufficient Funds and Returned Item fees if you've had four or fewer Insufficient Funds or Returned Item occurrences in the past 12 months.¹

Standard Overdraft Practice is not available for Chase High School Checking or Chase Secure Checking.

Posting Order

The order in which we generally apply deposits and withdrawals to your account each business day:

FIRST: We add your deposits to your account.

SECOND: We subtract wire transfers, everyday (not recurring) debit card transactions, online banking transactions, ATM withdrawals, teller cash withdrawals, and checks you write that are either cashed or deposited at a teller station by a Chase employee, in the order in which they are authorized, withdrawn, cashed or deposited.

THIRD: We subtract all other items, including checks you write that are either cashed or deposited at an ATM, starting with those having the highest dollar amount and moving to the lowest. We reserve the right to use a different order in certain states.

Knowing your balance may help you avoid fees

Use any of these options to check your balance before you make a purchase.

¹ An occurrence happens any business day that at least one (1) item is presented or withdrawal request is made against an account with Insufficient Funds.

OVERDRAFT PROTECTION:

What it is: Allows you to link a Chase savings account as an Overdraft Protection backup account to your checking account to help pay any overdraft transactions that may occur. The exact amount needed to cover the transaction will be transferred if enough funds are available.

What it pays:

- All transactions, including everyday debit card transactions

What it costs:

- There is not a fee for an Overdraft Protection transfer; however, an Overdraft Protection transfer counts toward:
 - $5 Savings Withdrawal Limit Fee, which is a Chase fee, applies for each withdrawal or transfer out of a Chase savings account over six per monthly statement period. All withdrawals and transfers out of your personal savings account count toward this fee, including those made at a branch or at an ATM. This fee is waived for Chase Premier Savings accounts with a balance of $15,000 or more in the account at the time of withdrawal or transfer out
 - Federal Regulations also limit you to six savings account withdrawals or transfers per monthly statement period. However, this limit does not apply to withdrawals or transfers made in person at a branch or at an ATM. If you exceed the federal limits on withdrawals, we will notify you and may convert your savings account to a Chase Total Checking account
- Refer to the next page for applicable fees if enough money is NOT available in your linked Overdraft Protection backup account

Establishing or Canceling Overdraft Protection: Any owner of both the checking account AND the backup account may enroll in Overdraft Protection without the consent of other owners. Any owner of the checking account OR the backup account may cancel Overdraft Protection without the consent of other owners. A backup account can provide Overdraft Protection for more than one checking account, but a checking account can have only one backup account. A personal checking account may be linked to a Chase personal savings account; and a business checking account may be linked to a Chase business savings account or a business line of credit in good standing. We may cancel your Overdraft Protection service at any time by sending you written notice. Your request to add or cancel Overdraft Protection will become effective within a reasonable time after approval.

Transfers: We will make one Overdraft Protection transfer per business day. If you have enough available funds in your backup account, we will automatically transfer enough to bring your checking account balance to zero. If you do not have enough available funds in your backup account to bring your checking account balance to zero, but you have enough available funds to pay one or more transactions and/or your previous day's negative balance, we will transfer that amount. If the amount transferred does not bring your checking account balance to zero, your checking account will become overdrawn and you may be charged Insufficient Funds or Returned Item Fees. If we authorize your transaction, we will leave the funds in your backup account until we pay the transaction, which may take several days. However, if you use those funds before the transaction is paid there will not be available funds to make the transfer and your checking account may become overdrawn and charged an Insufficient Funds Fee. The available balance for a savings account is determined at the time that we authorize a transaction or at the end of business day processing. The available balance for a business line of credit is determined at the end of the previous business day processing. We are not required to notify you if your funds are available but the backup account becomes blocked, for example if the account is dormant, purged, restricted or not in good standing. Refer to the section Restricting your account; blocking or delaying transactions in the Deposit Account Agreement for additional information. Transfers will appear on your statement for both accounts.

CHASE DEBIT CARD COVERAGE:

What it is: Allows you to choose how we treat your EVERYDAY DEBIT CARD transactions. If you don't have Overdraft Protection, or you don't have enough funds in your linked Overdraft Protection backup account, and:

- You select NO, the transaction will be declined and you will NOT be charged a fee
- You select YES, we may pay the overdraft transaction at our discretion based on your account history, the deposits you make and the transaction amount. Standard Overdraft Practice fees apply

Regardless of your Debit Card Coverage decision, if you are enrolled in Overdraft Protection and you have enough money in your linked Overdraft Protection backup account, your transaction will be approved and a transfer will be made.

What it pays:

- Everyday debit card transactions ONLY

What it costs:

- If Paid: $34 Insufficient Funds Fee per item
 - Maximum of 3 fees per day, for a total of $102
 - This fee is not charged if your account balance at the end of the business day is overdrawn by $5 or less, or for items that are $5 or less
- If Declined: Transaction will NOT go through and you will NOT be charged a fee

If a recurring debit card transaction is declined, the transaction does not go through and you are not charged a fee.

You can avoid overdrawing your account by making a deposit or transferring funds to cover the overdraft before the business day ends. If you deposit a check, this assumes we do not place a hold and the check is not returned. Here are the cutoff times for some ways of making a deposit or transferring funds from another Chase account:

- At a branch before it closes
- At an ATM or when transferring money on chase.com or Chase Mobile or using Chase QuickPay with Zelle before 11 p.m. Eastern Time (8 p.m. Pacific Time)

Disclosures for New Account Inquiries

The information is a part of our Deposit Account Agreement. However, these disclosures are not our complete deposit contract. If you open an account, or upon request, we will provide our Deposit Account Agreement, which contains the complete deposit contract.

Interest on Checking and Savings Accounts: When you open a checking or savings account that pays interest, we will provide you a rate sheet stating the current interest rate and Annual Percentage Yield for your account. The rate sheet is considered a part of this agreement.

Your account has a variable interest rate. That means we may change the interest rate and Annual Percentage Yield as often as we choose, without limits and without notice. Interest begins to accrue on the business day we receive credit for your deposit. For cash, wire transfers and electronic direct deposits, interest begins to accrue on the business day of your deposit.

We use the daily balance method for calculating interest. This method applies a daily periodic rate to the balance in your account each day, which may be based on your balance (also called your present or ledger balance) or collected balance as explained in the product information for your account. The collected balance is the balance of all deposits in your account on which we have received credit for the deposited funds (determined by the availability schedule of our Federal Reserve Bank for checks and similar items). We reserve the right not to pay interest on any deposited item that is returned to us unpaid.

Interest is credited and compounded monthly. However, Retirement Money Market accounts with interest distributions will not compound, and interest will be credited on the distribution date. Unless otherwise stated in your product disclosure, interest is computed on a 365-day basis. We pay interest only in whole cents. Therefore, at the end of each interest payment period (usually monthly), any fractional amount of interest less than half of one cent will be rounded down and any fractional amount of interest equal to half of one cent or more will be rounded up to the next whole cent.

Limits on Savings Account Withdrawals: Federal regulations limit the number of withdrawals and transfers out of your savings account. In this agreement, a savings account means an account with limited withdrawal privileges, including a money market account. During any monthly statement period, you may make no more than six withdrawals or transfers (for example by check, ACH, telephone, Internet or Overdraft Protection transfer) out of these accounts. However, this limit does not apply to withdrawals made at a branch or at an ATM, by mail (by check payable and mailed to you) or by messenger. If we don't send a monthly statement, a monthly statement period means a calendar month. We are required to ensure that you comply with this limit. If you exceed this limit after we've notified you of a violation, we will change your account to one we choose that doesn't limit withdrawals, and it may be an account that pays less or no interest. For Retirement Money Market accounts, we may either refuse or delay any withdrawal request that violates these requirements.

CDs: A certificate of deposit, or CD, is a deposit account with us for a specified period of time. This disclosure covers both retirement and non-retirement CD products. By opening your CD, you agree to keep the amount deposited (principal) on deposit. Here are a few things you should know about CDs:

• Term: The term is the number of days, months or years you agree to leave your money in the account.

• Maturity date and grace period: The maturity date is the last day of your CD's term. The grace period is the 10 days after the maturity date for CDs with a term of 14 days or longer. On the maturity date or during the grace period you can change the term of your CD, make additional deposits (for non-retirement CDs only), or withdraw your CD principal without paying an early withdrawal penalty.

• Automatically renewable CD: An automatically renewable CD will renew on the maturity date for the same term unless we notify you otherwise or you change or close the account. Once your CD renews, any reference to the maturity date means the last day of the new term. For the renewal term, your CD will earn interest for the term and amount at the CD standard rate unless you qualify for the CD relationship rate. If your CD is closed during the grace period, it will not earn interest on or after the maturity date.

• Single maturity CD: A single maturity CD will not automatically renew on the maturity date and won't earn or be paid interest on or after that date.

• Interest: We use the daily balance method to calculate interest on your CD. This method applies a periodic rate each day to your balance. Interest begins to accrue on the business day of your deposit. Interest for CDs is calculated on a 365-day basis, although some business CDs may calculate interest on a 360-day basis. The Annual Percentage Yield (APY) disclosed on your deposit receipt or on the maturity notice assumes interest will remain on deposit until maturity. On maturities of more than one year, interest will be paid at least annually. You may withdraw any paid or credited interest without penalty during your CD's term or at maturity. On the maturity date, interest will become principal of the renewed CD. A withdrawal will reduce earnings.

• Early withdrawal penalties: There is a penalty for withdrawing principal prior to the maturity date. Refer to the CD section in the Product Information.

Waiving early withdrawal penalties. We will waive early withdrawal penalties in these circumstances:

- Death of a CD owner or a grantor of a revocable family/living trust;
- Disability of a retirement CD owner;
- A court's determination that a CD owner is incompetent;
- Re-titling of a CD (excluding a retirement CD) to transfer ownership of funds into a living trust without moving funds from the bank and where no change in term or rate occurs; and
- For retirement CDs, if the owner is 59½ or older and the funds are taken as an IRS-reportable distribution via cash, check, or deposit or transfer to a non-retirement account. This waiver does not apply if the transfer is to a retirement account at another financial institution.

We will also waive early withdrawal penalties under the circumstances described below. However, if these withdrawals occur less than seven days after the account was opened or a previous withdrawal was made, the withdrawal penalty will apply.

- Disability of an owner of the CD (excluding a Retirement CD);
- For retirement CDs, if the owner is under age 59½ and one of the reasons defined by sections 72(t) and 530 of the Internal Revenue Code applies, such as payment of qualified education expenses or first-time home purchase expenses; and
- For retirement CDs, if the owner is withdrawing an excess annual retirement contribution amount and any corresponding earnings.

Overdraft and Overdraft Fee Information for Your Chase Checking Account

What You Need to Know About Overdrafts and Overdraft Fees

An overdraft occurs when you do not have enough money in your account to cover a transaction, but we pay it anyway. We can cover your overdrafts in two different ways:

1. We have standard overdraft practices that come with your account.
2. We also offer overdraft protection through a link to a Chase savings account, which may be less expensive than our standard overdraft practices. You can contact us to learn more.

This notice explains our standard overdraft practices.

- What are the standard overdraft practices that come with my account?

We do authorize and pay overdrafts for the following types of transactions:

- Checks and other transactions made using your checking account number
- Recurring debit card transactions

We do not authorize and pay overdrafts for the following types of transactions, unless you ask us to (see below):

- Everyday debit card transactions

We pay overdrafts at our discretion, which means we do not guarantee that we will always authorize and pay any type of transaction. If we do not authorize and pay an overdraft, your transaction will be declined.

- What fees will I be charged if Chase pays my overdraft?

Under our standard overdraft practices:

- If we pay an item, we'll charge you a $34 Insufficient Funds Fee per item. This fee is not charged if your account balance at the end of the business day is overdrawn by $5 or less, or for items that are $5 or less.
- We won't charge more than three Insufficient Funds Fees per day, for a total of $102.

We waive fees for some account types:

- For Chase SapphireSM Checking accounts, we waive the Insufficient Funds and Returned Item fees if you've had four or fewer Insufficient Funds or Returned Item occurrences in the past 12 months.
- For Chase Private Client CheckingSM accounts, we waive the Chase overdraft fees.

- What if I want Chase to authorize and pay overdrafts on my everyday debit card transactions?
